

This template is to show you the size and distance of the pre-made holes on the StrikeMaster II. Please be aware that your printer may shrink or enlarge this template. Therefore we have provided the measurements of the holes and the distance between. These are the standard distances between latch and dead-bolt for building codes in America.

From the top of the hole to the bottom of the second hole is 7 1/4 inches.

From the bottom of the hole to the top of the second hole is 3 3/4 inches.
